“From the Desk of the Superintendent”

Volume 2, Number 8

Community Update and Elmwood Tidbits:

We are making our way through winter, and overall, February looks like it will be on the cold side. As the cold moves out, spring moves in. I cannot wait. For me personally, I am already tired of the snow and cold.

Almost every student from grades 3rd on up will soon be entering testing season. These tests are important for us. They provide us with data on how our students are doing in comparison to other schools in the state. The tests also help indicate what students need intervention or enrichment. When your building principal announces the test dates for your children, please write these dates on your calendars. These days are when we want our students to get a good night's sleep, eat a good breakfast, and finally make sure they are in attendance. I think that most would say that we don't always agree with the State of Ohio's overuse of testing, but this is the environment we are in, and our job is to make sure your child is ready to perform at their highest ability.

Calendar Change: Originally, Monday March 5th was scheduled as a teacher in-service day. This has been changed to a school day with students and staff in session to make up a calamity day that was lost due to weather. If we miss any more days, we will look at the first and last day of spring break as our next available make up days.

Zoe Shank, a senior on our girls' varsity basketball team, reached a milestone that not many ball players reach in their high school career. Zoe has broken the threshold of 1000 points during her varsity basketball career. Zoe will be the 12th player (6 males, and 6 females) in Elmwood's history to have reached this milestone. It will be fun to watch to see what her points grand total will be once she finishes her season and career here at Elmwood.

We recently took a picture of the Board of Education for our website. I want to share in it my newsletter also so that the community has a name and face for the Board members that run our school system. In the back row is Brian King (President) and Ryan Lee. The front row is Debbie Reynolds (Vice-President), Melanie Davis, and Kristen Endicott. Our next Board of Education meeting is scheduled Monday, February 12th at 6 PM in the MS Media Center.
