

E-learning days continue with future calamity days

Parents and Community Members,

I wanted to let you know that if we close school the rest of the year due to weather or other calamity days reasons, we will continue to do e-learning on those days so that we can count the hours as being in session. The only difference moving forward is that the teachers will post lessons before 11 AM, which is an hour later than we have been doing. Many teachers will post earlier, but we wanted to let everyone know of the time change.

Thanks,

Tony Borton

Superintendent
